

It is about time someone offers a service that produces basically on demand traffic and weather, as well as commercial free music and entertainment. I would gladly pay even more for the service and the ability to avoid commercials and to be able to quickly check on the traffic in my local area. Do not sto XM praise them for offering a service that the community wants and needs